4. THAT the Comox Valley Regional District update Union Bay Improvement District Bylaw No. 226 being “Water Regulations Bylaw No. 226, 2010” to include a reference to Master Municipal Construction Documents as a standard for infrastructure and development activities for the Union Bay water service.

Executive Summary

Conversion of UBID to CVRD, for water supply/distribution, fire protection and street lighting, is set to occur on July 1, 2021. An update on the conversion activities was provided to the Electoral Areas Services Committee (EASC) in May and current information is available at www.comoxvalleyrd.ca/ubid. This report provides some updated information with respect to financial services and recommends certain updates and process commitments in order to facilitate a more seamless transition and also respond to UBID Board of Trustee interests.

1. Finance related:

- UBID has adopted a budget for 2021 that the CVRD is working with the UBID team to obtain an understanding, and currently working on the development of the 2022-2026 financial plan with finalization planned over summer.
- The CVRD will deliver the fire, water and street lighting services for remainder of 2021 based on the adopted UBID budget, and are currently working on the projections to the end of the year in working with UBID team to ensure a streamline service transition.
- Over the summer, the detailed five-year financial plan, complete with operating requirements, capital plan, debt charges and reserve contributions, will be developed for the advisory working group and the EASC. The detailed five-year plan will provide context and rationale for subsequent operations and capital improvements and reserve levels, which may drive rate changes to ensure sustainable service delivery for these high infrastructure based services moving forward.
- The CVRD team will be undertaking the May to June bi-monthly billing with bills set to be distributed mid-July. The billing cycle for UBID water will be moving to a quarterly process for subsequent billings, with the first quarterly billing to include the July to September period, with billings distributed mid-October. The billing rate for 2021 will not be changed from UBID rates, but the bylaw will be amended to allow quarterly billing before July 1st when this new cycle will be enacted.
- The $390 parcel tax levy on Group “A” parcels were billed in early 2021 from UBID, with the first installment of $195 due and payable on or before the 2nd day of March 2021, and the second installment of $195 due and payable on the 31st day of August 2021 per UBID bylaw 285, “Taxation Bylaw 2021”. Balances outstanding for parcel taxes will be transferred to the CVRD on July 1, 2021 and a reminder will be included in the July and subsequent water billings for 2021. Any balances outstanding at December 31, 2021 will be transferred to the Province for collection with the ratepayers’ taxes for the 2022 fiscal year.

Therefore, bylaw 285 inclusions in section 2 around a percentage addition of 10 per cent of the amount thereof shall be added to all taxes remaining unpaid after said dates, and interest after March 1st in the following year in section 3 are not relevant in the transition to CVRD, where previously UBID was not able to transfer outstanding balances to property tax collection through the Province. A copy of Bylaw No. 285 is available on the UBID website at <https://union-bay.ca/bylaws-and-policy/>.

- Future work includes, among other matters:
 - The adoption of the service establishment bylaws for the street light, fire and water services for Union Bay over the summer with final adoption planned ahead of the BC Assessment deadline of August 15th for new services for 2022.
 - Analysis of the “B parcels” to be incorporated with CVRD’s regular parcel tax roll review panel. For context, the UBID Board of Trustees has clearly indicated its interest in collecting parcel taxes from B Parcels, which are those parcels that historically have not paid parcel taxes but which could be provided with Union Bay water. As noted in the recommendations, the CVRD will analyze the Union Bay parcels and confirm those that are receiving water or are eligible to receive water for 2022. That process will be undertaken over the summer and fall and integrated in the CVRD’s parcel tax roll review panel process in early 2022.

2. Fire Services:

The CVRD has enacted the Fire Services Administration Bylaw to establish consistent operational criteria and administrative parameters for the CVRD fire departments. Bylaw No. 280 establishes such a framework applicable to all the CVRD fire departments within Electoral Area A, that being Fanny Bay, Hornby Island and Denman Island. With the conversion of the Union Bay Fire Service to the CVRD, it is prudent to incorporate this service under the same consistent operational criteria and administrative parameters. Such inclusion negates the need for the existing Union Bay Fire Department Establishment and Operations Bylaw No. 209 which provides for similar administrative direction. A consolidated version of Bylaw No. 280 is available on the CVRD’s website at https://www.comoxvalleyrd.ca/sites/default/files/uploads/bylaws/bylaw_280_cvrdfireservicesadministration_consolidated.pdf. The bylaw amendment would consist of expanding the definition of “fire department” under section 1(1)(i), naming the Union Bay Fire Service under section 2(1) Application, specifying the existing department service level under section 5 (1) as “full service”, as well as repealing UBID Bylaw No. 209 being “Fire Department Establishment and Operations Bylaw, 2007. Current UBID bylaws are available on the UBID website at <https://union-bay.ca/bylaws-and-policy/>.

3. Water regulations bylaw – During spring 2021, the UBID Board of Trustees contemplated its proposed subdivision bylaw with an intent that standards are in place for new infrastructure and development activities. UBID was not able to adopt its intended subdivision bylaw, and has requested that the CVRD incorporate standards in a Union Bay water regulations bylaw. The CVRD recommends that UBID Bylaw No. 226 be amended to refer to the Master Municipal Construction Documents as a standard for new infrastructure and development by inserting a new section to this effect. The new section 10 would read: “System Standards – The Master Municipal Construction Documents (MMCD) are to be used as a standard for consideration of new service connections, applications for service and infrastructure improvements. The CVRD may require any study work or infrastructure improvements to meet MMCD standards.” Current UBID bylaws are available on the UBID website at <https://union-bay.ca/bylaws-and-policy/>.
